connection with the program Republican Senate and House leaders for emergency tariff legislation.

The Senate and House Republicans have falled to reach an agree ment on the manner in which the emergency measures, the agricultural emergency tariff bill, the American valuation bill and the antidumping bill, shall be handled.

Following the refusal of Chairman Fordney of the House Ways and Means Committee to combine the three measures in one, Senator Penrose, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, stated yesterday that regardless of what the House does the Senate will put them to gether.

Under this program the Heuswould pass the three bills independently and the Senate Finance Committee would add the anti-dumping and valuation bills to the emergen cy tariff and report a single measure to the Senate.

Supporters of the American valua-

Kent County School of Religious Education, Bishop Theodore S. Henderson, of Detroit, said popular styles of the present time were far from modes!.

"The styles," he said, "are unfit for Christian persons to follow. The time is ripe for Christians to create the styles and permit others to follow in their trail. There are a lot of women and girls who would rather be in jail than out of style. I say they should be put in jail for daring to follow present styles of dress."

LONDON, April 1 .- The coal strike has been reported general today, but so far no disorders have been reported. In most fields the pumpmen and safetymen remained at work and in others clerks, managers and officials are working the pumps. So far there has been no need to use sailors for this purpose, as in the last strike. Owners are optimistic egarding the outlook.

There is said to be three months coal supply in reserve on the present restricted consumption, and even the Railroad Situation and leading miners declare they do not expect the strike to last more than week or two.

> DEADLINE ON DECK SET BY SKIPPER TO QUELL RED REVOLT

Tigress' Leads Deportees. Who Are Subdued by Seasickness.

NEW YORK, April 1 .- The log of a red ark in which mutiny threatened, a dead line was established and officers considered calling for an fact that President Harding's Cabido or say aught that would enable today when H. J. Skeffington, immi-gration commissioner at Boston, re-and experience, and, as in the case turned from Europe on the Adriatic. Skeffington had charge of seventy eportees on the steamer Esthonia rhich crossed in February.

Trouble began the first day out, when Rosa Ordovsky, "the tigress," with an ultimatum. "We are distinguished person leaving a rotten country," she stated. "We demand first-class accommodations instead of the steerage."

Four hundred Russians in the steerage joined Rosa's band, and to steerage joined Rosa's band, and to prevent a general uprising Skeffington and the captain transferred the twenty-five to second-class cabins. There a dead line was drawn across the deck. Knowing the sailors would not shoot a woman, Rosa threatened to cross the line. The captain, believing serious trouble would result, was preparing to call for an Americans.

was preparing to call for an American destroyer when a storm came up. Rosa was one of the first to succumb to seasickness.

The last the Esthonia saw of the "tigress" was when she meckly fol-lowed a Russian soldier, who told her the Soviets had no scruples about shooting the disobedient.

Skeffington returned via Germany where he said he found there were hundreds of thousands of emigrants waiting for peace, so they could go to America.

BANK BANDITS GET AWAY WITH $15,000

SUMMITT, Ill., April 1.—In a raid rivaling the Western movie drama for thrills, four bandits today robbed the State Bank here of $15,000 and escaped.

Three employes, one a woman, and four patrons, including two women, were in the bank when the raiders entered, pistols in hand. One re-mained outside in a big, new car, evidently stolen for the purpose. The bank employes and patrons wer forced to line up along a wall. While one robber relieved the en ployes and patrons of their money and jewelry, the others forced Cashier Mandel to open the cage and vault. One robber scooped up what money was in sight in the vault and then cleaned off the cashier's desk of several rolls of-

GERMANY PAY PRICE OF WAR

Government Holds Teutons Responsible; Will Support Allies.

AMERICA'S POSITION PRAISED BY VIVIANI

Attitude Unchanged on Taking Part in League Of Nations.

By ARTHUR SEARS HENNING. The United States holds Germany

esponsible for the war and will insist that Germany make all the reparation in its power for the devastation and sufferings of innocent peoples wrought by its inexcusable act of aggression. This is the attitude of President Harding and his administration authoritatively made known yesterday. Presumably it was communicated to former Premier Viviani, of France, in his talk with Secretary of State Hughes, if not during his audience with the President.

To say that M. Viviani is pleased over this voluntary exposition of ent, he expressed himself as being Out of these conferences and other greatly moved by the typically vigcontacts it is easy to assemble the orous and straightforward American it is not a real surprise, as it stands on all-fours with what he had so far learned in his attempt to present the cause and plight of France M. Viviani said it shows that Amer-ica has the most intelligent grasp of, and a deep, sympathetic interest in, the European situation as seen new group of men taking hold of a from the allied viewpoint. It shows, he added, that America is still keeping the faith as she did in the war and that America is not leaving

American destroyer, was revealed net includes men of more than Germany to escape fulfillment of its just obligations to the victims This is the answer of the administration to the fears entertained among the allies that the United States contemplates a course of action which would encourage Germany to resist the payment of ren arations and to German hopes that the United States can be relied upon to help Germany escape paying the penalty for causing the war Amount Not Questioned. Whether the reparations exacted of Germany by the allies under the terms of the Versailles treaty are more than Germany is able to pay and whether these reparations have been determined in a fair and just manner are questions upon which the administration is not stating its position at this time. Presumably these are matters which will be dealt with if occasion should arise.

That the President's attitude to Germany's responsibility for the war, however, means the administration will accede to the wishes of the allies as to the continued participating of the United States in European affairs does not follow.

The ratification of the Versailles treaty even with such modifications as were embodied in the Lodge rea-ervations is now out of the ques-tion. The administration would not accept the treaty unless it were much more radically revised. Position Unchanged.

The President in his inauguration address declared against the entanglement of the United States in Eu-ropean affairs and any peace that is made must meet this test. If the allies were willing to revise the treaty to the satisfaction of the United States the way would be opened for direct indorsement of the terms imposed on Germany.

Such indersement would also be made possible by ratification of the treaty with reservations of non-acceptance of provisions of which the United States disapproves. the United States disapproves.

A third method would be a separate peace with Germany for which the Knox resolution is proposed to pave the way. If this alternative should be adopted the administration presumably would require that Germany in such a treaty admit responsibility for the war and agree to make reparations.

What was disclosed of the administration attitude yesterday does not indicate any weakening of disapproval of the present League of Nations. It was noted as significant
